ENVIRONMENT STRATEGY FOR

Toward an Environmental and Climate-Sensitive Approach to Protection in UN Peacekeeping

Environmental degradation, including degradation caused by dimate change, armed conflict, or the illegal exploitation of resources, can be a catalyst for isolence against civilians. When environmental degradation contributes to violence, UN peacekeeping operations should include environmental and climate security constitutions in their answerter and plainting, as well as in the implementation of their mandatiot activities related to protection.

Environment, Natural Resources and UN Peacekeeping Operation

The UN Assistance Stations in Somital (USSOM) was among the not special profit all missions for core climate relating applical missions for core climate relating and profit all missions for core climate relating also became the first mission is have an environmental and climate advise also became the first mission is have an environmental and climate advise deployed to hole pimperent this monatule. The advises, who is the efficie of the depay special representative of the secretary general, was accorded by the UN Intercomment (Frequentice (USFF)) and is indeed on an annual basis through extra-budgetary contributions. The adviser's work is structured account three pilease.

- Mainstreaming the environment and climate throughout the mission's mandated areas of work, including by contributing to the mission's work on environmental mediation, maintreaming climate into risk planning and analysis, and collating data on climate, peace, and security
- Supporting the government in developing, funding, and coordinating its climate action plans and policies.

While the environmental and climate adviser is still a relatively new position whate the evivolenthetual and calimate servicer is tail a returney new position, they have allerady achieved some important successes. Because of strong buys in from both mission leaders and national and regional counterparts, the adviser has been able to help the mission implement its mandate refusing to climate change, convironmental degradation, and other evological changes. The adviser has also helped coordinate climate related work, incorporate strategic analysis into climate-related risk assessments and responses, and linius with local actors.
